About Us

South Norwood Net is a volunteer community group run by local business owners and residents. We help with local projects, promote events and community organisations.

Our website is an information portal for hundreds of daily visitors who look up businesses, upcoming events, information about local history, venues and places to visit. Facebook, Twitter and Instagram channels are also key to promoting local events to thousands of followers.

Our network members also help with projects such as delivering leaflets, taking part in street clean-ups and organising the annual South Norwood Community Festival, which over 6,000 people attend.

We distribute 5,000 copies of each edition of the South Norwood Net magazine.

If you are interested in volunteering or advertising please get in touch via the website or our social media.
